HEAD OF THE LIFTLINE

by Pam Holder

And What Did You Do At Summer Camp?

August has been drilled into our heads from all our years of schooling as the time to take that final sigh and play the hardest, for it's Back To School in ONE month. Around SCSC, that final sigh turns into the last month before The Meeting.

All of the trip budgets are approved and 1988-1989 will prove to be another year of excellent values for your ski dollars. Hopefully you have all been approached by numerous TCs and ATCs at SCSC activities and Happy Hours extolling the virtues of their trips. Check out all their pix and note some of the Hot Gnus about their trips in the following pages.

Your membership card is in production and will be attached to your September Sitzmarke. Be sure to bring it to The Meeting along with your Czech book (or your French book, Spanish book, or plain old green-backs). Remember, only members are allowed to sign up for trips.

Ginger Howard assures me that we will have plenty of tempting items bearing the SCSC Logo at The Meeting. If you did not order your nambe badge last year, stop by the goodie table and plunk down your money. It will be ready at the following meeting.

SITZMARKE DEADLINES

- ★ August 5, 1988
- ★ September 13, 1988
- ★ October 11, 1988

But enough about The Meeting. It's August and it's time to play. August 13 is the Jazz Dinner Cruise aboard The Colonial Paddlewheel. One week later on the 20th, SCSC will be at Miller Outdoor Theater on the St. Augustine listening to Kerrville Bluegrass. If that's not enough, award winning cooks, Howard Pallet and Sy Liebergot will hold the Silly Chili Cook-Off on the 21st along with the best beans and coldest ice cream. You can get a team of three together to cook or just come on out and wolf down the good eats. Happy Hour this month is way out Westheimer at Randy's on the 18th.

If you have friends who are interested in joining SCSC, don't wait until The Meeting (better known as The Madhouse). Bring them to one of our activities or Happy Hours or call Membership VP Bill Vasen and ask him to mail them a membership form. There's still time to get them signed up and they too can be a card-carrying member rushing the doors at The Grand.

One final note for your thoughts. After many years of holding meetings and parties at Craig Meyers' SCSC famous Bald Eagle Bar, Craig has adjourned to Big D and closed the Bar. If you have access to a meeting room (for a nominal fee, of course, SCSC is basically cheap) that would accommodate at least fifty people and allows alcoholic beverages, please let me know.

See you at The Meeting. I'll be the one at the microphone that you won't be able to hear above the roar.

CONTEST TIME!

Beginning with the July issue of the Sitzmarke, we started running a 6-month contest to encourage attentive reading of our publication.

Each month from July until December, we will print a brief characterization of a unique skier-type somewhere within the pages of articles and ads. If you can find the corresponding picture elsewhere in the same issue that would fit in the boxes below, clip this picture and paste or tape it in place. After the December issue, mail your filled boxes to the Sitzmarke editor. Prizes will be awarded to the three top finishers. In the event of a tie, a drawing will be conducted from all the correctly completed forms.

ROAD RALLY

by Kathy Walsh

"From starting point A, you go to ..." Kathy Walsh addressing the masses.

When is driving in Houston's Sunday afternoon traffic fun? When you are searching for clues in the SCSC 1988 Road Rally!

Thirty-eight eager souls met at Meyerland Plaza June 12 to test their driving abilities and wit on the streets of southwest Houston. Coordinator, Kathy Walsh had coerced Ron Noska, Mike Gerstenberger and John Rice to assist with crowd control and traffic direction.

Jerry Pyle and Gail Quenneville were first to arrive on the scene with Lite in hand. They secured the honor of cruising the course first and were one minute behind the third place winners. Tom Honeycheck and navigator Theresa Fraise, got off to a slow start with a wrong turn but quickly recovered and got on a roll on Richmond. They were first to complete the course but were several answers short of placing. Not bad for virgin ralliers.

To preserve family peace, Bonnie and Enrique Rosselli, declined the honor of riding together. Not only did Enrique and Celeste Gerhart beat Bonnie and Mary Etnyre by over one hour, they earned special recognition for the most creative answers. Surgeon General Koop would be proud of them for shopping at Davids(?). Bonnie's first words when she stumbled across the finish line were "Is my husband here yet?"

The lovely trio of Elaine Fitzgibbon, Linda Gonzales, and Susan Fink completed the course in 92 minutes and somehow spotted 5 Jack In The Boxes(?). They were anxious to arrive at Fuddruckers' to inspect the "comfort" station. Diana Mills' navigator, Craig Tharpe, was particularly careful to cover all bases when answering the clues. She wrote name, address, phone numbers and anything else she could find on each landmark. They were so delighted to finish, the graffiti "Hur-ray Diane" graced their answer sheets. Now Diana's driving wasn't that bad, was it?

Patti Richards and Jean Walke won third place with 62 answers in 102 minutes. Their answer sheet was probably the most legible of the group.

SUMMER AT THE DOME

by Marty Matras

The weather was perfect, not a hint of rain, the temperature was a mild 72° and low humidity. Where was this heavenly place? The Astrodome, of course! That's where 38 SCSC members enjoyed the Houston Astros and Cincinnati Reds play baseball.

Aside from the action on the field, there was plenty of play in the sky boxes, at least around the refreshments. I should have known that it was far better to order more beer and less food. This thirsty group drank their fair shares by the end of the third inning. We needed our own relief effort to secure more refreshments to finish the game.

All in all, everything went well and everyone had a good time, except for Glenn Bishop whose idea this was. Unfortunately, he got called to Tulsa (that's in Oklahoma) on business and couldn't attend.

P.S. In case anyone is interested - we won!

GUADALUPE RAFTING TRIP

by Mark Russek

Equipment check! Jeri Rotenberg, Tom Williams, Ray Fincher, Vern Oliver, Bruce Humphries.

After months of planning and preparation, June 17th finally arrived and 47 of the hungriest, thirstiest, and most high spirited campers in captivity met at the Metro lot with gear in hand. After seeing Kristie Kemp for a name tag, everyone grabbed a beer and happy hour was officially begun. We "carefully threw" our gear in the bus, grabbed a seat and a sandwich and roared off toward the river. We didn't even get to New Braunfels before we had to stop and ice down more beer.

Around 10:30 p.m. we pulled into Camp Mountain Breeze and met our river guides from Texas River Expeditions. Those who had rented tents found them set up and waiting for them. The rest of us combed the area for choice tent space and proceeded to wrestle with canvas, nylon, ropes and flashlights until a SCSC "Tent City" was finally erected. Around 1:00 a.m. we heard the last tent zipper close and everyone tried to sleep off a "Killer" bus party.

Guide Cathey and Ed Kanyuck. "Listen, honey, I've been rafting rivers since before you were born!"

Saturday morning we ate breakfast and listened to instructions about water safety from T.R.E. leader Mark

Evans (who was already suspecting a mutiny). After carefully selecting our raft mates for their paddling and water throwing skills, we were bussed upriver to our put-in point. There we were assigned a paddle, life jacket and raft. The rafts were barely in the water when Manuel Valle opened fire with his water machine gun and the water fights were declared open. With 5 gallon buckets and pails we drenched each other with cold river water. We splashed and paddled our way down river for a few hours and then beached our battleships for lunch. An army of hungry rafters devoured ham sandwiches, snacks and drinks while Sue Bohnert and friends played a game called "find the contact lens on a pebble beach."

Back in the river, Rita Tucker won the award for the most discreet in the Guadalupe-e contest. As the water wars raged on, Billie Nowak could be heard complaining of bucket bruises and being splashed by her own boat gunner. (Now who would do a thing like that?) Later on several rafts witnessed a strange hill country phenomenon known as "double moons over the Guadalupe." Field experts, Lee Mixon and guide "Crazy Jane" should be consulted for a detailed explanation.

Meanwhile, back at the water-fights, Karen Gibson was seen luring young warriors to her raft while her accomplices nabbed their water buckets. This started a "rash" of bucket thievery. Many rowing chants could be heard from the raft crews, such as "hefty, hefty, hefty - wimpy, wimpy, wimpy (ask Sue Bohnert), ooga chakka lakka lakka, and Sue Salvage's favorite, stroke-stroke-stroke! Sharon Griffin proved to be quite a markswoman with her water pistol. Terry McGuinness wins the sartorial splendor award for wearing his "high tech" suntanning bikini and Rita Tucker's purple shorts. Matt Miller and Bruce Humphries were often seen trolling the river for beautiful mermaids.

They also spotted 5 Jack In The Boxes -- maybe Elaine, Linda and Susan followed you guys?

The Road Rally mystery continues to be the whereabouts of Greg Van Tassell and navigator Wade Blissard. These guys are driving a red sports car with Indy seat belts. They blasted out of Meyerland parking lot blowing dust in the face of the next car driven by Beth Nolen and Lari Steinberger. John Rice and Ron Noska were placing bets that these guys had a pit crew around the corner. We waited for Greg and Wade at Fuddrucker's until way after dark. Maybe they beat us all there and decided the crowd at Sam's was more fun. Is this the same Van Tassell that was listed in the Chronicle sports section as winning a scholarship to A&M for ... you guessed it -- winning a national road rally?

Meanwhile, despite dust, Lari and Beth got off to a great start, finding 62 clues, tying with Floyd Hanks and Ginger Howard and Bonnie and Mary for fifth place. Speaking of Ginger, Kathy wants to know how you knew about the size of Ron's...billards? Despite using comfort facilities prior to race time Floyd and Ginger made a pit stop during the race. This admission to question #66 won them balloons and toilet paper to be used in next year's rally.

Is it true that Lynn Crimms and Bob Kocian completed the rally without one argument? Lynn arrived at Fuddrucker's cheerful and anxious to plan a rally for her company. Rumor has it that Kathy and Marty Matras decided to personally test SW

NEWS FROM THE SKI DESK by Cheryl Clements

With the heat of summer upon us, it's really hard to imagine 24 souls devoting vast quantities of, what should be well-earned vacation time, to negotiating and "wheeling and dealing" with your favorite resorts to ensure SCSC the best deals (and snow) for the upcoming ski season. And what deals have been made! Hold that thought until the September issue.

Meanwhile, another thought has come to mind about those "24 souls" who have sacrificed great amounts of time to trip planning. I cannot say enough to give the TCs and ATCs the praise they deserve. They have committed to almost a year of service, out of pure dedication to SCSC, for possibly one week (or less) of skiing. The trip that is earned is rumored to "net about 16 cents per hour." My guess is more like 5 cents an hour.

Behind the Scenes: Trip planning begins in April with the Texas Ski Council Bid Selection Meeting. Once the Council's trips are voted on, SCSC then builds its schedule around the Council's schedule. From there, SCSC's schedule is submitted to the airlines to secure the best possible flights available, in time and price. At the same time, screening has taken place and the TCs are voted on by the Executive Committee and training thus begins in early May. Continuous training sessions, budget and planning meetings take place throughout the summer in preparation for the "big night" in September.

A sneak preview of each trip is included in this issue -- prices are not shown, but I'll tell you this, you're really going to be pleased. The TCs and ATCs have done a fine job, not forgetting the assistance of their DOTs -- Floyd Hanks and Gloria Rooney, and the results are evident. I'm confident each and every SCSC skier will be pleasantly surprised.

FLASH: By popular request (via numerous telephone calls and inquiries), Kitzbuhel, Austria is being added to our trip slate. Remember, since this is a European trip, the deposit required at the September sign-up is $300. Shirley Andries has consented to be the TC responsible for herding 21 SCSC skiers off on the Texas Expedition. NOTE: If we do not get at least 21 participants, SCSC will not participate on this trip.

Don't forget to look further into this issue for tempting tidbits on our trips. You're gonna love our trips so start arranging your schedules now to accommodate a trip or two. See you at the September meeting!

Santa Fe HOLIDAY TRIP December 26-January 1

The historic city of Santa Fe will provide forty-two Space City Ski Club members with a Christmas through New Year's adventure. The Santa Fe ski area, which rises from a 10,000 foot base, averages over 250 inches of snow annually. The mountain also has snow making and a new quad chairlift, as well as participation in NASTAR (both new for 1988-89).

Your TC and ATC are developing plans for day trips to exciting and lesser known ski areas in New Mexico for those who feel adventuresome. And, of course, there will be New Year's Eve festivities. A new condominium lodging facility in central Santa Fe will provide SCSC skiers with comfortable accommodations while they plan a week enjoying the "Land of Enchantment."

Space City's premier trip - 1988-89 ski season - will be to the world renowned ski resort of Vail, Colorado.

Luxurious accommodations will await 60 participants at the first class Simba Resort, located ½ mile west of LionsHead Lift. Some of the fabulous amenities include a 60 foot heated pool, Jacuzzi, saunas, masseur on staff, racquetball courts ... all located indoors for year round enjoyment. All condos are 2-bedroom, 2-bath with wood burning fireplaces.

Vail mountain has 20 ski lifts - 6 of which are high speed express to maximize ski time. There are over 1,880 acres of skiing - 32% beginner, 36% intermediate and 32% advanced. There is a total of 92 trails plus an additional 49 trails at Beaver Creek Mountain, which is only a short 10 miles from Vail. Lift tickets are interchangeable.

There is great shopping and an endless choice of over 90 restaurants and bars. Sounds too good to be true ... join us and see for yourself.

After a few more water slinging battles, we finally paddled our way back to our campsite where we dried off and were then treated to hors d'oeuvres and margaritas. Don Lindquist proceeded to organize a volleyball game during happy hour, with a lot of slightly "tipsy" athletes like Mary Butler, Jeannie Hubbell, Diane Richards, David Ross, Linda Lacarione, and many more. Mary DeSantis won honors for most improved server and Mike Moldofsky demonstrated how to play volleyball and drink a double vodka at the same time. After our chicken dinner, 33 die-hard rowdies pulled on our dancing shoes, boarded the bus and our driver Ken whisked us off to Gruen Hall where we drank and danced the night away.

"Gee, they think they'll really eat this stuff?"

It seemed much too early when we got up Sunday morning and had a nice pancake breakfast. We quickly then broke camp, loaded the bus and took off for the "chute" while receiving a "21-bun" salute from the T.R.E. guides. Once we rented our tubes at Prince Solms Park on the Comal River in New Braunfels, Ray Davis jumped in the river and led a record breaking serpent-like chain of SCSC tubers through the chute. After many trips through the chute and down the river, most of us relaxed on the bank and soaked up lots of sun and suds. Then we all changed into dry clothes and boarded the bus for more eating, drinking, laughing and story-telling on the way back to Houston. It had been a fun-filled weekend, enjoyed by all. The weather was great, the food was good, and the company - the best!

Mike Moldofsky and Mary DeSantis. "You come here often?"

Mark Russek, Michael Bilberry, Anice Petersen. "You want to play with us?"

Thanks to all my helpers, Tom Williams, Vern Oliver and Jeri Rotenberg to name a few. Thank you, Jeri Hartman and Becky Hall, for all your pre-trip help and suggestions - couldn't have done it without you. And a "Beeg" Muchas Gracias to each and everyone of you happy campers. You were all just great. You made my job a pleasure. See ya next year -- on the river!!

ROAD RALLY

Houston's bakeries to decide for themselves "who has the best pastries." They completed the course in great time and still had room for hamburgers. Gay Arp navigated while Gwen Barfield drove the course, tying Kathy and Marty in time. Gay and Gwen were one of the few ralliers to identify the place to find Italian sporting machines.

Sandra Palmer and Jan Livingston detoured the course and went to Jan's house, for shall we say ... a rest stop. They arrived at Fuddrucker's after 2 hours and 40 minutes, well rested and ready to party. Ed Cain and Chris O'Donohue came in second place; could it be because they returned to Meyerland to look at Kathy's shirt and the movie marque? Probably because they didn't stop for "rest" or "comfort." Roberta Rambin won the distinct honor for having the most illegible handwriting. Ron Rambin just shook his head and laughed, could it be he has heard this before? She confiscated her answer sheet and destroyed the evidence. Tim Morton and Terri Wander were last to arrive at Fuddrucker's, winning STP gas treatment and a compass for next year's use. They scored 61 correct answers; very good! Terri had won the door prize drawing before she even arrived.

Keith Huber and Sally Hintz took a wrong turn out of the parking lot and ended up somewhere near the Summit. But determined as they were not to open the disqualifying envelope with the name of the finish point, they solved the mystery of the "World's Greatest Hamburgers." Keith and Sally did get 4 correct answers, pretty good for not being on the course.

First place winners were none other than Ted and Debbie Bergeron! Sixty-four correct answers in record time. Could it be because she ran last year's rally? It will teach one a lot about sleuthing. Twin trophy towers now grace their mantle, along side their dirty dancing awards.

Congratulations to all of the ralliers! We sure saw some lovely(?) parts of our fine city.
