Fine Wines Come from California The Best Skiers from Texas However Christmas Formal Cancels

Head of the Liftline

by RON SMITH

There will not be a Christmas Party this year. You, the Club, voted to cancel this activity. "How," you say, "did I vote to stop an activity?" By not sending in your money to go. We on the Executive Committee try to anticipate things you, the Club, may wish to participate in. The lack of response cancelled this activity. My point is, that if you wish to ensure that activity will happen then you must vote with your check early enough to prevent its cancellation.

There will be a Happy Hour in December, but you should go only if you want to drink, dance and dine. LeCave will be offering all of the above on the 19th of December. Details on page 15.

Jan Livingston, VP of Programs, has arranged for a visitor from the North Pole to make a stop at Space City's General Meeting, Monday, December 9th, with a bag of goodies. So, mark your calendars for such a unique visitor.

Gordon Wise, VP of Membership, has assured me that by the December General Meeting, he will have worked with Dianne Tully, Secretary, to get out the first listing of the directory. You should check your name very carefully to make sure all the information is correct. If you haven't received your directory, then call Gordon. We will try to have extra copies at the meeting for sale should you want a second copy. The second place directory winner's will be the cover sheet, with the first place winner being on the permanent directory.

BANFF

The dates for this year's Banff ski trip are February 23rd-March 2nd. Accommodations for our stay have been made at Chateau Lake Louise and the Banff Springs Hotel (better known as the Castles of the Rockies). We'll spend the first half of our week at Chateau Lake Louise.

In Banff we will ski Mt. Norquay which has an amazing variety of terrain. Also within a short distance is Sunshine Village, located at the tree line along the Continental Divide. Select and enjoy your choice of Banff's more than 30 restaurants. Banff is more than just a ski resort. Swim and soak in the Sulphur Mountain Natural Hot Pool. Ride Banff's sightseeing Gondola. Experience a genuine Western style Hayride and BBQ ... there's more ... Helicopter skiing, night skiing, cross country, and skating...it's in Banff ...Be There!!

Since Snowmass is a destination resort, you will not be in competition with local skiers for services. Sixty percent of the runs are rated intermediate level, 15% easy and 25% expert.

If you should get tired of creating memories at Snowmass, you can take a bus to Aspen where you will find over 100 restaurants, two theaters, plenty of offmountain sports and a night life that is second to none. Aspen is only 20 minutes away by shutle and Buttermilk Mountain is even closer.

Snowmass offers cross country skiing, sleigh rides, dog sled rides, heated swimming pools, Jacuzzis and 20 restaurants.

Put this all together with full days of skiing, Nastar Races, Fun Race, unlimited free access to Marlboro Ski Challenge Course.

After skiing, you can take pleasure in Texas Ski Week's off-mountain activities which include chili cook-offs, hot air balloon races, and theme parties (ten gallon hat and pajama) with live entertainment.

Wine and Cheese Party, Welcome Party, Hot Tub Party and other special planned activities for Texas Ski Week-Traditional, and you have the ULTIMATE PARTY TRIP OF THE YEAR!

Join 1600 of your closest friends at TEXAS SKI WEEK.

NEW YEAR'S

The West as it was meant to be -- wide open, welcome and just a little bit wild. Join us for a New Year's celebration that you'll never forget on the mountain of Billy Kidd. Ski the second largest mountain in Colorado, famous for its champagne powder that swirls over your knees as you explore miles of skiing terrain. Additional runs off of Sunshine Peak have been opened to test your skills.

Our forty-two SCSC skiers will be staying at Timber Run complete with an outdoor heated pool, sauna, popular lounge and three outdoor hot tubs, one of which has been reserved for our private party one night. Gorilla juice will be served abundantly! Timber Run's convenient shuttle every fifteen minutes will whisk you to the slopes, the shops or the night life.

We have planned a gala New Year's Eve party featuring live entertainment, a wine and cheese party, happy hours most afternoons and an optional group dinner at Steamboat's finest Italian restaurant. Besides the excellent skiing, you will have the opportunity to try hot air ballooning over picturesque Steamboat, excellent cross country trails which include moonlight tours, beautiful sleigh rides down the original stage road, and much more.

SPACE CITY SKI CLUB FUN RUN

By Brenda Clary

On the 9th of November at eight o'clock One brave group assembled at Bear Creek Park. Donning our gorgeous space shuttle T-shirts and sunblock, Beside Pavilion #3 we began to run for fun or walk.

Aligned at the starting point, we wondered who would win. Then the count was given; Jennifer Majors served as timekeeper; Leading the group was Jan Livingston's son, six-year old Preston Ginn. But Arlen Isham soon broke away; he was no sleeper.

Arlen, a marathoner, led the pack three loops around And each time declined Gwen Conner's offer for a drink. Did he fear that Tom Danowski's sprint was too sound? Mark Russek ran hard too; from competition he didn't shrink.

Mike Rooney posted a good time and was cheered on by Gloria, A woman who was Abel to handle finish-line duty. Her announcement of "You're finished" brought Marlane Doyle euphoria, But the first place female honors went to Marlene Vail, a beauty.

Our group's other marathoner, Cecil Smith, was quite strong. He kept up a steady pace, showing no sign of pain. Julie Mulvaney gave him a good race and was greeted by a cheering throng While another successful finisher was contestant Ed Cain.

Jane Roehrig helped to make the event a success, Lending her support where needed, But Gerry Simpson completed the run sans stress: It was just for a cold drink that he pleaded.

Mike Clark also raced without hesitation, Posting a good time and enjoying his race. Meanwhile, Don Wilkes' long strides and determination Earned him an award-winning place.

Cathy Travland also won and took home the award For first-place finisher in her group. Marlane Doyle's young son, Scotty, however was bored And questioned the sanity of those running dupes.

Then back to the pavilion for rest and cold brew, Awarding of prizes and discussion of what was sore. The conversation was jovial; we were glad to be through, All except Cecil and Arlen, who wanted to run more.

And away they ran, on into the day While we departed and sought other forms of play.

HOUSTON SKI PRIX DINNER & SKI AUCTION

By Sandra Palmer

The United State Ski Team has received help from our Club members. However, Bob Olsen is one member that has been devoting a lot of his time hosting parties for their benefit. This year, for the first time, Bob worked as hard as ever with a Steering Committee of the Houston U.S. Ski Education Foundation.

On November 6, approximately 200 people gathered at the Houstonian, North Post Oak Lane, for a Black Tie Dinner and Ski Auction to raise funds for the 1988 U.S. Ski Team.

The special guests were the Honorable and Mrs. Donald P. Hodel, Secretary of the Interior, Ross Dierking, U.S. Team Fund Raising Coordinator, Jim Page, Nordic Program Director, Bill Johnson, Team Member and 1984 Olympic Downhill Gold Medalist and Holly Flander, Team Member and 1982 World Cup Downhill Winner.

Thanks go to Sue Bonnert, Layna Adams and Leona Schroeder for checking everyone in are collecting from the lucky bidders in the auction. Dr. Warren Cross and his lovely bride Kathleen were high bidders for a trip as was Robert Sheridan. Ask Easy Thayer about how to bid, but before you take his advice, ask Dick Howard about how to quit bidding. Sandra Palmer tried to bid on a trip to Acapulco but her hubby, Ron Smith, just kept smiling. (The bid cards were stuffed safely away in his pocket.)

Other SCSCers such as Merlyn Harger, Michelle Lamb, John Ohit, and Terry Cummings had a memorable evening at the Champagne Auction and at the After-Banquet Celebration Party to discuss skiing with the pros.

Over $40,000 was raised at the Houston Ski Prix. Our country needs to promote snow skiing and our U.S. Ski Team, so hopefully we'll have an annual event for our members to help support the team. Hope to see you there next year. Thanks, Bob Olsen!

Try Our Delicious Leftovers!

When you travel with Personal Air Charter to the ski resorts of New Mexico, Colorado and Utah, you'll find our "leftovers" every bit as appetizing as our fare.

Leftover Vacation

When you travel with the airlines, your vacation starts after you reach the slopes, following delayed flights, plane changes and a long drive from Denver or El Paso.

At Personal Air Charter, we make sure that your vacation starts from the moment you board our plane at the airport of your choice. Our menu always includes:

*Stereo with selection of tapes

*Custom upholstered club seats

*Complete bar, beverage and catering selection

*Inflight telephone *All-weather equipment

Best of all, these luxuries are delivered with the ultimate in professional, friendly service by people who are enjoying your vacation as much as you are.

Leftover Time

If you've never skied on the first or last days of your vacation, chances are you couldn't schedule an early airline arrival or you were worried about losing your seat on the plane or missing the flight altogether.

We invite you to enjoy such extra skiing time with our compliments. With Personal Air Charter, you choose the airports and you make the schedule, which you can change at your leisure. We never leave without you, and we always look forward to hearing about that "last great run" on the trip home.

Leftover Money

Our happiest clients, those who used to fly with other charter companies, enjoy longer vacations and better nightlife with the leftover money that is the difference between our prices and the prices they used to pay.

May We Take Your Order?

We look forward to ski trips and skiing for the same reason you do — for the fun of it!
Call Earle Martin or Ken Beer at (713) 370-3311 to find out how Personal Air Charter can be the best part of your skiing

PARTY ANIMALS SHOT DURING CALIFORNIA WINE SAFARI

Rolls and rolls of film were used for priceless shots of Space City oenophiles on the October Napa Valley Wine Safari. The Natives proved friendly. They made offerings of the local beverage, an intoxicating brew made from the juice of small grapes which grow in abundance in this beautiful valley. The trophy shots that accompany this article do not do justice to the fall colors, the morning mists or the elixer of fresh country air.

What a dilemma...how to choose from more than ten dozen excellent wineries offering samples of the finest wines California has to offer. We had to resort to the many guide books on the subject. One book has 139 entries for Napa alone. Friends at Key Distributors and at American Wine were also helpful in arranging VIP tours at our first three stops: Sebastiani, Mondavi and Whitehall Lane.

Sebastiani, actually located in Sonoma, impressed us with their beautifully carved doors and barrel heads. The giant redwood vats used for decades to do the initial fermentation contrasted greatly with the ultra modern Robert Mondavi facility. Ron Smith was even more impressed with his late harvest taste of a Cabernet Sauvignon grape right off the vine. These large wineries annually produce about 3,000,000 and 300,000 cases of wine respectively. Their size alone precludes the personal attention given to wines and visitors at a small winery such as Whitehall Lane.

Dr. Alan Steen is one of the owners of Whitehall Lane Winery. His wines and hospitality were the highlight of our winery tours. The low 20,000 case production obviously receives meticulous and loving attention at every stop of the wine making process. Many of our group made purchases here.

Shirley Andries and Greg Yokell sacrificed a winery tour and a dart match to shop at one of the many Napa delicatessens for a memorable pre-tour picnic at the Louis M. Martini Winery. Martini is a strange name for a wine company, don't you think? Thanks to Caroline Martini for providing very pleasant surroundings and great wines for our sunny picnic in the park.

The afternoon provided an opportunity to explore other wineries on our own. Bob Olsen was disappointed to learn that Joseph Phelps had changed the style of the Syrah, but excited for the chance opportunity to try a late harvest wine right from the barrel. Sandy Palmer merely enjoyed the valley view from the patio of this hillside winery. Heitz Wine Cellars are located nearby off the Silverado Trail. Outspoken patriarch of the family winery, Joe Heitz, greeted our visit with his proud Cabernet Sauvignon and Grignolino wines and a few personal comments on the business of winemaking. He grows no grapes, preferring to concentrate on making wine. The second generation does the hand work but, a slight purple tinge on Joe's hands indicated he still gets into handling the grapes!

Needing a break from all the fun, Layna Adams tried a taste of the native olive. However, her jaws were no match for the hard olives she found on on the local trees. Nancy Thomas tried hard to find a mud bath in Calistoga, but could not find a group facility! Hence no one took advantage of the mineral spas or hot springs found at the upper end of the Napa Valley. Restaurant critic, Nancylee Lyles, had her wish come true at the elegant Domaine Chandon Restaurant where they produce sparking wines of the same name. Jim Benefield solved the riddle of riddling champagne bottles but could not imagine twisting 30,000 bottles per day with the pros.

Jan Livingston and Austinites, Bruce and Judy Hord, led the Party Animals on night hunting expeditions. Sleeping late proved to be the cure for what they found. Nevertheless, Carlos Febles was up eary to run in the cool morning air. Bobbet Olsen led the shopping safari, pausing at every opportunity to pick up a T-shirt here and a trinket there. Jim Benefield found a room to his liking at our headquarters: the Cornerstone Bed and Breakfast Inn. We monopolized 11 of the 12 rooms of this vintage 1891 original. Dick Howard was seen enjoying the fresh baked muffins that inn keeper, Margie Hinton, prepared each night.

Out of town club members Judy Hendrix, Judy Combs, Peggy Widaman and Gary and Cathy Elston met us for tastings and a roast pig dinner at Anesti's. Ron and Roberta Rambin got up early to get tickets for the mass winery tour at Beringer. These caves and the tasting room were interesting, but we voted this the most overrated tour and tasting of the weekend. An earlier visit to Sterling Vineyards more like a ski trip. This hilltop winery overlooks a beautiful valley and is accessed by cable cars. Our VIP guide treated us to a very special vertical (sequential vintages) tasting of Cabernet Sauvignons. Diane Yarberry still cannot decide which she likes best.

You cannot do justice to San Franciso and environs in just a few days. However, first time visitors like Glynnda Addicks were treated to a sampling of cable car rides, Chinatown, breakfast with the locals at the Eagel Cafe on Fisherman's Wharf, giant Redwoods, hillside living and shopping in Sausalito, winding down Lombard Street and several good views of the Golden Gate Bridge (actually painted orange).

Meanwhile, the Party Animals ended the weekend at a downtown pub. The rest of us watched the sun set over the Pacific. Yes, we left our hearts in San Francisco.

The lucky participants are back from the Keystone trip talking about the great skiing and the Texas Ski Week Roundup activities. I bet the SNOW was great. I'll have to admit I'm a bit envious. The Steamboat, Snowmass I, II, III trips may have some last minute cancellations, so call the respective TC. Remember, the full payment will be required immediately.

A word about NASTAR. Many beginning and intermediate skiers unfortunately avoid participation in NASTAR because of fear or shyness. You invision an Olympic course, down an advanced slope, full of moguls and close gates. This is NOT true. The course is normally layed out on an easy intermediate run. It can be completed by almost any skier who can accomplish a wedge turn. The ski areas offer race clinics and individual NASTAR races for prac-

The Texas Ski Council trips have a special NASTAR race. The different clubs race against each other for points. I believe one year a girl in our club took almost 5 minutes to run the course, but it was a point for SCSC. So it doesn't matter how fast you run the course, but crossing the finish line counts. The individual TSC trips are awarded trophies. At the end of the season, the Texas Ski Cup is awarded to the club having the most points. I encourage all participants to fill out the NASTAR card given to you by your TC and help your club win a trophy. It is fun, believe

However, if you sign up for a Lite NASTAR race, you can add points for our club. Be sure and put the club name on the card if its the Lite NASTAR. See opposite page for the Grand Prix winners as published in December's Ski magazine.

Remember to start exercising NOW. Walk, ride your bike or run and you will be ready for the slopes. THINK SNOW.

The Lite NASTAR Ski Club Grand Prix Winners

For the third consecutive year, Lite Beer from Miller will be sponsoring club NASTAR races at ski areas across the country, and your ski club can pit its members against other regional recreational clubs. In order to be eligible for the overall national competition, your club must register at least 15 adult members, and then enter any NASTAR race or call a participating area to arrange a private NASTAR race. Clubs compete against each other according to size, with two divisions over 1,000 members and under 1,000 members. The Best Team handicap is based on an average of all your club racers' handicaps (eliminating the five highest handicaps). The Best Medal Point Average is based on the total points for each medal earned by the club (gold = 4, silver = 3, bronze = 2 and one point for competing) divided by the number of club racers. The Greatest Number of NASTAR Club Races goes to the club that has competed most often between November and March 31.

Last year, 800 clubs tested their mettle at 135 ski areas in the Lite NASTAR Ski Club Grand Prix. The top ten clubs country-wide are listed below.

MERCER'S NINTH NON-ANNUAL CAMPOUT WET AND WILD!

By Ginger Howard and Joe Jackson

In keeping with tradition, early arrivals on Friday were greeted by the opening of the heavens. Cow huddling, the highlight of the afternoon, was directed by Jim Plummer. Becky Hall came prepared with her ten-man tent and instructions for tent raising, but failed due to the rain. About 30 hearty (or was it foolhardy?) souls gathered for a delicious chili dinner prepared by Sy Liebergot. Then the search was on for a dry place to sleep. It was reported that Joe Jackson had a major wet dream while sleeping in Bill Kirk's fashionable and weather-proven tent, while Jerry Pyle slept on, oblivious to everything. Floyd Hanks knew how to have more fun, faster than anyone, but made a remarkable recovery by Saturday morning. Robert and Cheryl Clements parked high on the hill, avoiding the flooding down at the barn. Ron and Roberta Rambin decided their motor home would travel only to Brennam and

All night long the rain continued, even into Saturday morning.... But nothing stopped the early morning breakfast crew of Glenn Bishop, Jerry Pyle, Bill Kirk, Tom Mercer, Howard Paillet and others, making a terrific showing with blueberry pancakes (who asked why they were green?) and sausage. The day was off to a great, wet start! Techniques for mud walking were refined as demonstrated by Mike Brown and Catherine Long, who came well prepared in full elegant rain gear. Ann Batten was already out fishing, knowing how well they bite in the rain. Fair weather campers began arriving by mid-morning, Saturday, with "excuses" for not showing up Friday. Ken Redding and Lesa Oliver rolled in (but no one topped the 180 by Elyse Robbins Friday night.) Cissy Dutcher re-arrived after an unfortunate incident on Friday evening with Nancy Bolsen and Eula Griffin involving a stubborn trunk containing rain gear and warm clothing.

And it was still raining....

And the rain stopped....

Bob Cruse arrived after lunch, ready to organize the teams and conduct the games. With his innovative ideas and appropriate changes due to the mud, the races were on (chariot, that is). The five-legged race provided cheap thrills for some when tying the upper thigh tie. Penny Chauncey's team was seen practicing diligently, with Bob Wilbanks always seeming to be on the wrong foot. (Incidentally, Bob, why didn't you ever change clothes?) The egg toss provided even more excitement. The final event required great oral dexterity with spoons. As usual, SCSCers proved themselves in this area. The suspense was high as teams wondered who would receive the coveted prizes (Mickey Mouse rings?)!

Relaxing afternoon activities included Layna Adams leading a nature walk, and another group walked to town. Lynn Danhauser and Harold Eaton were seen at the local cemetery. Ron Smith was intensely involved in therapeutic chair re-webbing, while John Hargleroad opened the barn for automotive repairs. Pam Holder surfaced when the weather improved. Ray Naudin seemed very proficient at tractor driving for car and trash hauling. Ginger Howard was distressed over a cold shower

Sy Liebergot presented a memorable feast Saturday night to over 75 campers, which was followed by delicious desserts prepared by Jean Williams and her team of piemakers. The night was yet young when the evening festivities began. Debbie and Ted Bergeron seemed to be leaders in the game of Sexual Trivia. Easy Thayer selected suitable dancing music and the dance floor was packed. A group gathered outside around the campfire under a beautiful star-filled sky. Karen Gibson was involved in an intellectual conversation with Tom Mercer about limited toilet paper usage in the women's porta-potties, and then moved on to discuss with Carlos Febles the significance of bandana wearing. Jane Roerhig entertained a group with her guitar and singing. Marlane Doyle was concerned that she had sat in something and her coat was in need of the "big B." Dan Mauk seemed calm, obviously not wanting to outdo any of the past legends about him. Prizes were distributed by Bob Cruse, with the Red Team being the overall winner. Yana Bane graciously received a bottle of champagne which was "tastefully" presented by Joe Jackson, Jeri Hartman seemed to be comfortably relaxed around the fire, while John Stumph was mesmerized watching the dancing--or maybe the dog who became an official party person when Karen Gibson tied a bandana around his neck. Joe Jackson continued trying to compile valuable statistical data from those around the campfire and concluded with his fire-walking routine. The barn became a dormitory as everyone without a dry place to sleep nestled in. However, Billie Nowak was comfortably housed in her own private suite in the "Pigeon Hilton."

Sunday morning brought sunshine and another great breakfast, after which most were drying out and packing up. Football between Greg Yokell, Becky Hall and the dog was entertaining, as well as soccer with the crabapples. Dick Howard led a major clean up crew in dishwashing at the cabin. If Gayle Speck had lost his keys one more time, we were really going to wonder about him. Eileen Kowis had so much fun, she's already planning for next year. Don Wiedeman and Sharon Griffin stood around smiling a lot--maybe it's because he ran this event last year.

Many thanks to all who helped--especially Sy, Howard, Glenn, Tom and all the others. Bill Kirk and Karen Gibson were ready for any job they were asked to do. Special thanks go to Tom Mercer and his family for sharing their hospitality in a beautiful, even when wet, natural setting.

Ginger and Joe - "Are we having fun yet!"

Lynn Danhauser, Jerry Pyle, (middle), all the way from Mississippi to cook pancakes!

King Sy convincing Mercer that authority still has to help!

The sun does shine at Mercer's!

Hi Sweetie, got a date?

IN SPITE OF HALLOWEEN CASINO PARTY

By Karen Gibson and Gayle Speck

Great times and great prizes were the main attractions at the Casino Party held Saturday, October 28.

There's no truth to the idea that you can't play a game without knowing the rules. Just ask one of the many crowded around the craps table that night. Many fortunes were won and lost. And, what's this I hear, Jerry Hartman? No one wants you to deal blackjack anymore! You always won! Our waitresses, Ginger Howard, Brenda Chandelier, Jan Livingston and Eileen Kowis have vowed to always give generous tips to waitresses in the future. A big thank you to Richard Luce and Mike Gerstenberger for keeping the games and prizes moving. We want to express a special thanks to A. G. Davis for picking up the equipment and helping set up. All the volunteers, including our children, did an outstanding job. Without them, the party would not have been such a success.

Throughout the night prizes were drawn for, and the party ended with an auction for additional prizes. The following are the lucky recipients, their prizes and the donor:
